All Remain Close to Bedside at Hospital—President and Wife There

Washington, July 7. (By the A. P.)—The last point of gravity was reached this afternoon in the condition of Calvin Coolidge Jr., son of the President, suffering from blood poisoning at Walter Reed army hospital.

He was clinging to life with wonderful tenacity, but hope was about all that was held out for his recovery.

All of his medical attendants were remaining close by and finding as chief marvels the stamina the boy was exhibiting.

Gas was said to be forming in the stomach, an additional evidence of the progress of infection, and making it impossible for him to take nutrition by the ordinary means. The President and Mrs. Coolidge were remaining immediately at hand.

Despite all of the unfavorable conditions, his bedside watchers and physicians still held to hope that he might recover by means of his life-long fight he is making for his life. After a consultation with the President and Mrs. Coolidge decided to go to the White House for luncheon, indicating that the doctors felt that their patient was not actually in a dying condition.

Washington, July 7. (By the A. P.)—After a night during which the patient was said to have been near death in three separate sinking spells, Calvin Coolidge Jr., son of the President, was still fighting bravely for his life early today with his pulse having slightly increased hope of his recovery.

It was announced shortly after 7 o'clock this morning that the President's son was "somewhat more comfortable" after having passed through the hours marking the most critical stage of his illness from septic poisoning.

One of the physicians who remained in attendance described his survival during the night as a "miracle," adding that he now had a bare fighting chance for recovery. The condition that gives greatest promise, he said, is that no vital organs have broken down in the strain.

The physician confirmed reports that a blood transfusion had been resorted to, presumably about midnight, and said the boy had "reacted well to the transfusion" and other things that have been done to him.

While it was stated in one quarter that oxygen had been administered during the sinking spell early today physicians refused to comment on that phase of the case.

There is likely to be plenty of harvest hands available in North Dakota, according to J. A. Kitchen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor. BANK BONDING MEASURE HELD INSUFFICIENT

Proposal For $6,000,000 Issue For Closed Banks Presented, Filing Refused

REASONS ARE GIVEN

Secretary of State Holds That Amendment Seeks Also To Legislate

HELD INSUFFICIENT
Petitions filed by a committee of six asking that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the voters at the November election, providing for a bond issue of $6,000,000 to aid in reimbursing depositors of closed banks, and rewriting the guarantee of bank deposits law and revising other banking laws, were today held "insufficient" by Secretary of State Thomas Hall.

In a letter to the committee for the petitioners, Mr. Hall found the petitions, which were said to contain 20,100 names, insufficient for the following reasons:

First, the proposed amendment seeks to amend a constitutional section relating to the debt limit of the state, and also amends and re-enacts various provisions of the banking laws; "the latter being purely legislative acts."

Second, the bill does not mention all subjects included. "The line of demarcation between a constitutional amendment and a purely legislative act is well defined," the letter states, quoting a supreme court decision. The Secretary of State holds that purely legislative acts and constitutional amendments cannot be embraced in the same petition.

The petitions were found to contain sufficient names, the count given by the secretary of state's office being 20,912.

William Langer, attorney for the petitioners, is in Casselton today.

The petitions presented by Mr. Langer last Saturday were said by him to contain approximately 20,100 names and he planned to present additional names today to give a goodly margin over the 20,000 signatures required to place a constitutional amendment on the ballot. Today was the 120th day before the election, and the last day on which petitions for initiating constitutional amendments could be filed, according to M. W. Duffy, Deputy Secretary of State.

The bank bonding measure is the only initiated constitutional amendment yet proposed for the November election. Petitions of initiated laws may be filed 90 days before the election, or as late as August 6.

Committee Named
The Langer petitions, circulated by the Association of Depositors of Closed Banks, named as the committee for the petitioners William Dyer, chairman; Robert Rotenberg, W. P. Steinmetz, O. F. Metcalf, M. E. Johnson, Harry Tucker, Oscar Newcomb, and William Langer.

It provides for initiation of a constitutional amendment relating to issuing of bonds and fixing debt limit, providing that proceeds of the bonds shall be used for protection of the depositors in insolvent state banks and providing for a method of organizing, establishing and regulating the number of state banks and for assessments to be paid by the state banks to the Depositors Guaranty Fund and providing that the Guaranty Fund Commission shall consist of the Governor, Attorney-General and Secretary of State, and that the same may be sued.

The amendment, at the outset, would fix the possible bonded debt of the state without security and for industrial purposes at $10,000,000, the figure now being $10,000,000. It would exempt from the requirement of real estate security on bond issues $4,000,000, proposed to be issued to pay depositors in closed banks, $2,000,000 proposed to be issued to protect collateral deposited for loans to banks, and the $2,000,000 already issued for capital stock of the Bank of North Dakota.

Changes in Bank Laws
The amendment would direct the Governor and Treasurer to issue $6,000,000 negotiable bonds, bearing interest not to exceed 6 percent, designed as "Bonds of North Dakota, Depositors Guaranty Fund Series." Two million dollars of the bonds would be disbursed on the order of the banking board for the purpose of buying notes and securities that have been pledged or deposited as collateral by insolvent state banks in the securing of loans to the bank when, in the judgment of the banking board, the sale of the notes in ordinary manner would result in a loss to depositors of the banks. The other $4,000,000 would be used in the guaranty fund, to be used in paying depositors of closed banks in the order of closing.

MERCURY GOES AHEAD TO NEW SUMMER MARK

Rises to 86 Sunday, the Maximum for the Year, But May Go Higher Today

CROPS NOT SUFFERING

Much Moisture in Ground, Says Commissioner From Northern Part of County

The weather bureau thermometer registered 86 at 3 p. m. today.

The mercury today was moving toward the high point of the season in Bismarck. Sunday the thermometer reached 86 degrees above zero here, the hottest point thus far in the summer. The mercury climbed to 77 at noon Sunday and it was at 80 degrees at noon today, with a possibility of 90-degree temperature late in the afternoon.

Pembina reported the highest temperature in the state Sunday, the thermometer registering an even 90 degrees yesterday. Several points in the state reported temperatures around 85, with a hot sun beaming and no rain to relieve the temperatures. The mercury also remained up to 62 here last night.

There appeared to be no general rain in sight, although possibly showers may fall tonight.

Crops thus far are not suffering, and the hot weather is a big boon to the corn, and also in the ripening of grain, according to farmers. Oscar Bachman, county commissioner, said today that in the northern part of the county grain is of excellent stand, and that there is a great deal of moisture in the ground. A few inches under the surface, the roots of the grain find much moisture, he said. There have been some reports brought in that rain would be of help to crops in some sections, but all reports agree that prospects at this time are the best in years. Another rain within a week would virtually clinch the prospects for the year.

Practically all sections of the state report improvement in the prospect of small grain crops as a result of continued favorable temperatures and rainfall during the last half of June; corn and potatoes are reported showing generally good stands but of short growth, while flax is considered to have made normal progress, with what appears to be an average percentage of weedy fields, according to a crop summary issued by J. G. Diamond, of Grand Forks, agricultural statistician for the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Details follow:

Wheat, oats and barley though still a little late have improved in prospect during the last half of June in practically all sections of the state. Well distributed and timely showers throughout June combined with relatively low temperatures have resulted in much better standing than in any recent year. The bulk of spring wheat is in the boot stage and about ready to head. Oats and barley have made proper (Continued on page three.)

BRYAN SPEAKS

This picture of William Jennings Bryan was taken during the 38th ballot of the Democratic convention, Wednesday afternoon, when the "common" was pleading for William G. McAdoo's nomination. His speech, one of the greatest of his career, however, did not succeed in breaking the deadlock.

McADOO LOSES MISSOURI AND MISSISSIPPI

Madison Square Garden, July 7.—Missouri, with her 46 votes, went to Senator Glass on the 80th ballot, dewatering the McAdoo column, where it had been voting under the unit rule.

On the 82nd ballot, Mississippi with her 20 votes, changed from McAdoo to Ralston.

David L. Rockwell, the McAdoo campaign manager, said he was not alarmed.

Another change on the 82nd ballot was occasioned when Kansas left McAdoo and returned to Governor Jonathan Davis with its 20 votes.

SOCIALISTS URGED TO AID R. LAFOLLETTE

Committee Recommends That Party Indorse His Presidential Campaign

A DEBATE ENSUES

Cleveland, O., July 7.—The Socialist Party of America went into the second day of its national convention here confronted with the task of debating and voting upon a report of a special committee of fifteen recommending that it indorse the individual presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

The committee voted 15 to two to make this recommendation. The fact that it was composed of outstanding leaders of the party selected by the convention yesterday by 23 delegates nominated from the floor and voted upon by the individual delegates, was considered significant of the probable outcome of discussion.

It was indicated that the debate would last for several hours.

McLAREN MAKES ANOTHER HOP

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN MOVEMENT TO END DEADLOCK, AS TODAY'S VOTING FAILS

McAdoo Alone of Candidates Objected to Proposal, But He Passes Word to His Delegates to Vote For Proposal When It Comes Before Convention to Avoid the Charge of Being an Obstructionist—Sunday's Conferences Fail to Develop a Nominee For the Convention

ADJOURNS AGAIN
New York, July 7.—The Democratic convention adjourned until 8:30 tonight, after another day of fruitless balloting.

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., July 7.—(By the A. P.)—By action of the Democratic national convention itself, all delegates were released from pledges and instructions on presidential candidates.

The action of the convention did not affect the two-thirds rule or the unit rule. By its action, the convention approved the stand of the minority candidates, including Governor Smith. Mr. McAdoo's counter-proposal did not come up for a vote.

The text of the resolutions adopted by the convention on motion of Governor Gilchrist of Florida, follows:

"Resolved, that the time has arrived when, in the opinion of this Democratic convention, all delegates should be and are hereby released from any pledge or instructions of any kind whatsoever, touching upon any candidacy for the nomination for President."

The McAdoo people passed the word that Mr. McAdoo wanted all his people to vote for the resolution as he did not want to appear as an obstructionist. The result was that the vote in favor of the motion tumbled in so fast that its passage was assured before the roll call was half over.

TODAY'S RECORD OF VOTING ON CANDIDATES

Total 79th ballot—McAdoo 607 1/2; Smith 366 1/2; Davis of West Virginia 71; Underwood 50; Glass 17; Ralston 4; Robinson 28 1/2; Ritchie 16 1/2; Walsh 6; Saulsbury 6; Ferris 18; Gerard 1; Roosevelt 1. Bryan three—Total 1,096, absent two.

Total 80th ballot—McAdoo 454 1/2; Smith 367 1/2; Davis 73 1/2; Underwood 48 1/2; Glass 68; Ralston 5; Robinson 29 1/2; Ritchie 16 1/2; Walsh 4; Saulsbury 6; Owen 21; Barnett 1; Daniels 1; Bryan 4 1/2; Ferris 16; Roosevelt 1. Total 1,096, absent two.

Total 81st ballot—McAdoo 413; Smith 365; Davis 70 1/2; Underwood 48; Glass 73; Ralston 4; Robinson 48 1/2; Ritchie 16 1/2; Walsh 8; Saulsbury 6; Owen 21; Barnett 1; Daniels 1; Bryan 4 1/2; Ferris 16; Roosevelt 1. Total 1,096, absent two.

Total 82nd ballot—McAdoo 413 1/2; Smith 366; Davis 71; Underwood 49; Glass 78; Ralston 24; Robinson 28 1/2; Ritchie 16 1/2; Walsh 4; Saulsbury 6; Owen 21; Ferris 12; Bryan 4 1/2; Daniel 1; Roosevelt 1. Total 1,096, absent two.

Total 83rd ballot—McAdoo 418; Smith 368; Davis 72 1/2; Underwood 49; Glass 78; Ralston 24; Robinson 28 1/2; Ritchie 16 1/2; Walsh 4; Saulsbury 6; Owen 20; Wheeler 1; Ferris 12; Bryan 5 1/2; Roosevelt 1. Total 1,096, absent two.

McAdoo's Proposal
At a session of the conference which ended early today, subject to call, the McAdoo proposal received no support from any other quarter. It was not made clear whether a simple majority for a two-thirds vote would be necessary for the convention to act on their proposal or whether it could merely express a desire on way or another.

The time up between the two proposals in the conference proved to be representative of the solidified divergence which appeared in the concluding ballots of Saturday's session, which put Smith up to 368 votes on the 76th and left him at the finish on the 77th with 367 votes, exactly the number required to block a nomination under the two-thirds rule. After the conference, however, spokesmen for the McAdoo camp said they had no intention of trying to prevent a vote by the convention on the proposal of the others for action releasing all delegates from obligation to candidates.

SAFE BLOWN AT STILL IN GENERAL STORE

Little of Value Is Obtained by Robbers. Who Make Escape, Word Here

Burglars last night dynamited a safe in the general store of the Farmers Union Elevator and Mercantile Company at Still, in the northern part of Far county. According to W. C. Jackson, manager of the store, probably not more than $20 to $25 in currency was obtained. What else of value was taken from the safe he was unable to say this afternoon.

The burglars were not heard and there was no clue today to them. Mr. Jackson said. The safe door was blown off and the robbers gained full access to the safe. Little else was taken from the store, in addition to the currency, he believed.

Sheriff Albin Hedstrom investigated the safe blowing today.

SOLDIERS IN MUTINY

Manila, P. I., July 7.—A number of soldiers of the 57th infantry have refused to perform duty. It is reported a Bolshevik organization has been formed among them.

A resolution pledging the delegates anew to the support of the Californian was adopted after his address, and plans were advanced to organize his women supporters more closely to work for his nomination.

The question of selecting a compromise candidate was kept in the obscure background of possible ways out of the difficulty during all of the week-end conference and after the adjournment early today, chairman Hull asserted that such a plan would be taken up only as a final extreme measure even if the convention should give specific authority for its consideration.

A few inches under the surface, he said, according to farmers, some reports brought in that rain would be of help to crops in some sections, but all reports agree that prospects at this time are the best in years.

Another rain within a week would virtually clinch the prospects for the year.

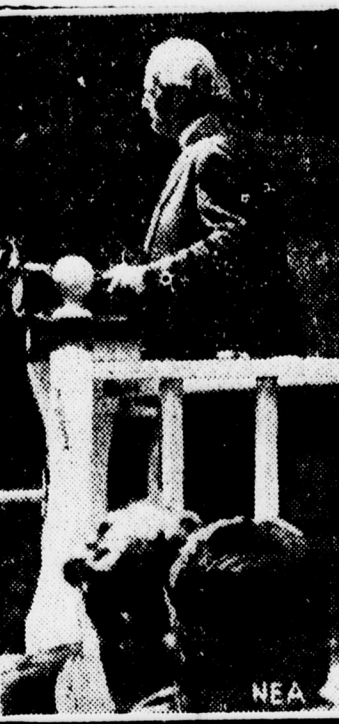

Practically all sections of the state report improvement in the prospect of small grain crops as a result of continued favorable temperatures and rainfall during the last half of June; corn and potatoes are reported to be generally good stands but of short growth, while flax is considered to have made normal progress, with what appears to be an average percentage of weedy fields, according to a crop summary issued by J. G. Diamond, of Grand Forks, agricultural statistician for the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Details follow:

Wheat, oats and barley though still a little late have improved in prospect during the last half of June in practically all sections of the state.

Well distributed and timely showers throughout June combined with relatively low temperatures have resulted in much better standing than in any recent year.

The bulk of spring wheat is in the boot stage and about ready to head. Oats and barley have made proper (Continued on page three.)

BRYAN SPEAKS

This picture of William Jennings Bryan was taken during the 38th ballot of the Democratic convention, Wednesday afternoon, when the "commoner" was pleading for William G. McAdoo's nomination. His speech, one of the greatest of his career, however, did not succeed in breaking the deadlock.

Madison Square Garden, July 7.—Missouri, with her 36 votes, went to Senator Glass on the 80th ballot, deserting the McAdoo column, where it had been voting under the unit rule.

On the 82nd ballot, Mississippi with her 20 votes, changed from McAdoo to Ralston.

David L. Rockwell, the McAdoo campaign manager, said he was not alarmed.

Another change on the 82nd ballot was occasioned when Kansas left McAdoo and returned to Governor Jonathan Davis with its 20 votes.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION IN MOVEMENT TO END DEADLOCK, AS TODAY'S VOTING FAILS

McAdoo Alone of Candidates Objected to Proposal, But He Passes Word to His Delegates to Vote For Proposal When It Comes Before Convention to Avoid the Charge of Being an Obstructionist—Sunday's Conferences Fail to Develop a Nominee For the Convention

ADJOURNS AGAIN
New York, July 7.—The Democratic convention adjourned until 8:30 tonight, after another day of fruitless balloting.

Madison Square Garden, N. Y., July 7.—(By the A. P.)—By action of the Democratic national convention itself, all delegates were released from pledges and instructions on presidential candidates.

The action of the convention did not affect the two-thirds rule or the unit rule. By its action, the convention approved the stand of the minority candidates, including Governor Smith. Mr. McAdoo's counter-proposal did not come up for a vote.

The text of the resolutions adopted by the convention on motion of Governor Gilchrist of Florida, follows:

"Resolved, that the time has arrived when, in the opinion of this Democratic convention, all delegates should be and are hereby released from any pledge or instructions of any kind whatsoever, touching upon any candidacy for the nomination for President."

The McAdoo people passed the word that Mr. McAdoo wanted all his people to vote for the resolution as he did not want to appear as an obstructionist. The result was that the vote in favor of the motion tumbled in so fast that its passage was assured before the roll call was half over.

With the delegates, who have been supporting Governor Alfred E. Smith and all other candidates, except William G. McAdoo, unconditionally released, permanent chairman Walsh, who, with Chairman Hull of the Democratic National Committee, was instructed Saturday to confer with the candidates' representatives "for the purpose of reaching an understanding" to break the deadlock had two proposals to report without recommendation.

One, unanimously indorsed by or in behalf of, all the candidates except McAdoo calls for action by the convention itself to compel unconditional release of the McAdoo delegates. The other, a counter-proposal advanced by Mr. McAdoo, provides in conjunction with the release of delegates for abrogation of the unit voting and giving up of the two-thirds nominating rule, progressive elimination from each successive ballot, the candidate receiving the lowest vote and full strength voting regardless of how many members may be absent.

McAdoo's Proposal
At a session of the conference which ended early today, subject to call, the McAdoo proposal received no support from any other quarter. It was not made clear whether a simple majority for a two-thirds vote was necessary for the convention to vote on the proposal or whether it could merely express a desire one way or another.

The line up between the two proposals in the conference proved to be representative of the solidified divergence which appeared in the concluding ballots of Saturday's session, which put Smith up 368 votes on the 76th and left him at the finish on the 77th with 367 votes, exactly the number required to block a nomination under the two-thirds rule.

After the conference, however, spokesmen for the McAdoo camp said they had no intention of trying to prevent a vote by the convention on the proposal of the others for action releasing all delegates from obligation to candidates.

Addresses Delegates
While his counter-proposal was being considered by the conference, Mr. McAdoo, in an address before a rally of delegates who had supported him throughout the six days of balloting, declared he would "feel like the most contemptible traitor alive if he deserted them at this time and he said they had no fight to a finish so as not to betray a trust." He was in the race, he said, "to carry out the mandate of the people" expressed in the primaries and state conventions and he reiterated that he did not intend to withdraw.

A resolution pledging the delegates anew to the support of the Californian was adopted after his address, and plans were advanced to organize his women supporters more closely to work for his nomination.

The question of selecting a compromise candidate was dropped in the obscure background of possible ways out of the difficulty during all of the week-end conference and after the adjournment early today, chairman Hull asserted that such a plan would be taken up only as a final extreme measure even if the convention should give specific authority for its consideration.

LAFOLLETTE IN ATTACK ON TWO MAJOR GROUPS

Says Neither the Republican
Nor Democratic Parties
Can Be Trusted

SENDS OUT MESSAGE

Declares that Platform of Both Parties Unacceptable to Progressives

Cleveland, July 5. Senator LaFollette's message to the conference for progressive political action, declared in part:

"In the most momentous crisis which has confronted the nation in our time you have called upon me to accept the leadership in a national political campaign to wrest the American government from the predatory interests which now control it and to restore it to the people."

"I realize this summons comes to me in no sense as a mere personal tribute. The American people are thoroughly awake to the real issue with which they must deal, and it is the failure of the two dominant parties to meet them."

"They know that the principles involved in the campaign are greater than any individual or any political party. It is only insofar as my public record squares with those principles and meets those issues that I can be of any substantial service in the progressive movement."

"I conceive it to be the first duty of every political party and of every candidate to state plainly and specifically to the American people the terms upon which their support is invited. The Republicans and Democratic parties have failed in this obligation. The progressives must deal honestly and openly with the people."

"After long experience in public life and painstaking consideration of the present state of public affairs, I am convinced that the time has come for a militant political movement independent of the two old party organizations, and responsive to the needs and sentiment of the common people."

"I should be unwilling to participate in any political campaign at this time which would imperil the steady advance of the progressive movement or diminish the number of true progressives, nominally elected as Republicans and Democrats, who are now serving the public in the house, the senate and in many of the state governments. The ground already won must not be abandoned. We must consolidate our present gains and press forward, without compromise or surrender."

"The necessity for an independent progressive movement lies in the failure of the two old parties to purge themselves of the influences which have caused their administrations repeatedly to betray the American people."

"The rank and file of the membership of both old parties is progressive. But through a vicious and undemocratic convention system and under the evil influences which have been permitted to thrive at Washington, both party organizations have fallen under the domination and control of corrupt wealth, devoting the powers of government exclusively to selfish special interests."

"An analysis of the platforms adopted by the two old parties will show that the real issues have been ignored and that the candidate of either party, if elected, will go into office with no specific pledges whatsoever binding him to the people, while he will be under the most immediate necessity and obligation of serving the party bosses and predatory interests to whom he owes his nomination and upon whom he must rely for election."

"The Republican convention at Cleveland scornfully rejected the only progressive platform offered for adoption and nominated a candidate who is the frank defender of the present system of government in the interests of organized wealth."

"The Democratic convention was forced, out of consideration of political expediency, and through the efforts of sincere progressives within the party, to take less openly reactionary ground, but the platform adopted at New York does not meet the demands of the progressive millions of the nation. The fact that the resolutions committee at that convention, controlled by proven reactionaries and trusted agents of organized wealth, accepted the platform declarations on domestic issues without a dissenting vote on any plank, is sufficient testimony to the character of the Democratic platform as an evasive and dishonest document."

"But even if both Republican and Democratic conventions had adopted thorough going progressive platforms, the American people have learned that neither party can be trusted to keep its promises. Both parties within the last quarter of a century have regarded their platforms, as they regard them today, not as a contract with the people and a program of action, but as devices to catch votes and to gain political office, with all its opportunities for personal aggrandizement and private profit for those who are willing to betray a public trust."

"To break the combined power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people is the one paramount issue of the 1924 campaign."

"If the progressives will but unite with a single purpose to meet this issue fearlessly and squarely they may rely with entire confidence upon the support of the plain people who are the victims of the present system and who have the right and the power, through the ballot, to control their own government."

Dodge Brothers Shows Saving For Users

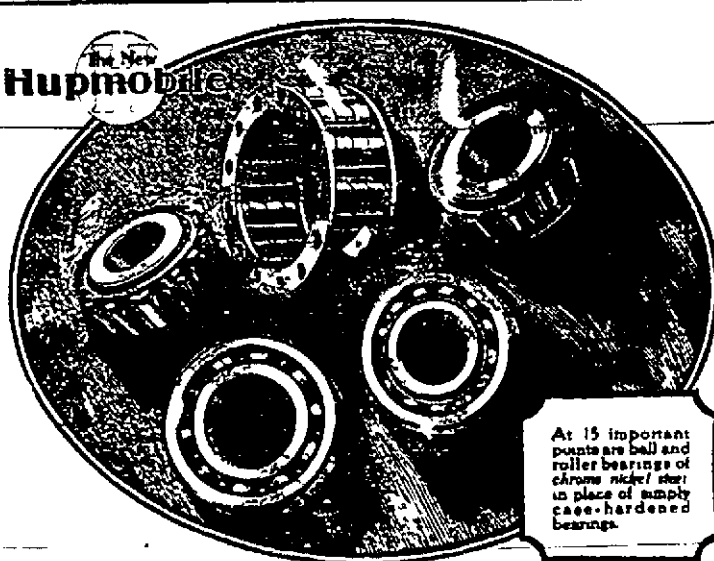

Local Dealers Say Public Appreciates Significance of Policy

It is quite evident from the comments of buyers according to M. B. Gilman, Dodge Brothers Dealer, that the public appreciates the significance of the Dodge Brothers policy of making constant improvements in their motor cars instead of changing models every year.

"Coming just at this time," said Mr. Gilman, "when many manufacturers are preparing to reveal new models, in keeping with the annual custom, this advertisement is having a striking effect. It strikes as a wholesome reassurance to prospective buyers. They dislike the idea of buying a car today and finding a month or a year later that it is an obsolete model. And it is only natural that they should. The depreciation loss is out of proportion for a few months' use. Moreover, most people like to be up to date in their motor equipment and they wish to follow their desire in this respect. This must accept this depreciation loss."

"Dodge Brothers Motor Car owners who buy new cars every year and there are many of them, have a big advantage here. A one-year-old Dodge Brothers car is modern in appearance and mechanical design. That fact is not conceded by anyone. Equally important to resale value, however, is the fact that it is substantially the same car that Dodge Brothers will manufacture a year later. In other words, there is no danger that this one-year-old car will suffer an undue depreciation loss simply because an entirely different model is about to make its appearance. We charge off only the normal rate of depreciation for one year. And the used car buyer in turn appreciates the fact that the price represents full value and that he can buy the car with full assurance of many years of satisfactory service."

WILLARD HAS NEW BATTERY

The Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland has just placed on the market a new battery for auto starting and lighting which, according to the Corwin Motor Co., local representative might be called "The Sleeping Beauty."

"If you remember your fairy tale," Mr. Corwin points out, "you will recall how the Sleeping Beauty slumbered for a hundred years without physical change and came back to life when the kiss of the Fairy Prince awakened her."

The new "Sleeping Beauty" Battery is like the girl in the fairy story. It sleeps without physical change until the kiss of the battery solution wakes it to life.

"The secret is in the plates and insulation," he says. "The plates are made according to a new Willard process known to the trade as Charged Bone Dry. The process induces a chemical change in them during manufacture, which stays put until the battery solution releases it in the form of electrical energy."

"The advantage of this new development in battery manufacture is evident. The battery is full charged in a dry condition and loses none of its life on the dealer's shelves, waiting for a purchaser, as wet batteries do. Thus the owner gets a brand new battery, full of life, none of which is wasted in idleness."

AERIAL LUCK DESERTS PILOTS

Salt Lake City, July 5. (A. P.)—Lucky in the air but unlucky on land are Paul Scott and Kenneth Unger, crack pilots of government mail planes stationed here.

At Elko, Nev., recently Scott, in alighting from an automobile at the flying field, stepped into a gopher hole and broke a bone in his left leg.

Unger after being forced down near Elko, borrowed a mule from an accommodating farmer to travel to a telephone. Somehow the mule and Unger couldn't agree, and the animal plied was thrown, injuring his right foot.

Neither Unger nor Scott has suffered a scratch or a mishap in years of aviation.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

There are obvious benefits to the purchaser in Dodge Brothers policy of making constant, gradual refinements in their product instead of changing from one design to another year after year.

Chief among these is the fact that the car may be operated throughout the full limit of its usefulness without the extra depreciation loss which results from a rapid succession of radically different models.

800 MILLIONS PAID U. S. IN INCOME TAXES

Average Net Income Person
For Year 1922 Is Figured at $3,143.46

INCREASE SHOWN

Washington, July 7.—A total net income of $21,386,212,530—an amount equivalent to the gross debt of the nation, was reported subject to federal taxes by citizens of the United States for the calendar year 1922. It was disclosed in statistics of incomes for that year made public by the treasury.

On this income the federal government received $881,057,308 from the 8,877,481 persons who admitted tax liability. This shows an increase over 1921 of $141,670,202, or 16.9 per cent in taxes paid, of 125,305 in the number of returns filed and of $1,759,000,000 in total income subject to taxation.

Average Net Increase
The average net income per person for 1922 was $3,143.46 per tax payer, while each theoretically paid $126.86 toward the upkeep of the government, and their taxes were at the rate of .04 per cent of their net incomes.

Based on the 1920 census 6.2 per cent of the total population paid taxes and by the basis of calculation, each American citizen, whether man, woman or child, had a net income for 1922 of $194.72, just ten dollars higher than in 1921.

The per capita tax by the federal government amounted to $7.86, almost one dollar more than in the previous year in which, however, a different schedule of tax levels was in effect.

More Have Million Incomes
The year 1922 produced returns for 67 net incomes of one million dollars and over, the highest for this class since 1918, when a similar number was reported. There were 21 such incomes reported in 1921. In 1920, between $500,000 and one million dollars incomes, there were 161 returns as compared with 63 for 1921. There were fewer returns showing net income between four hundred thousand and five hundred thousand dollars than between half a million and one million dollars in 1921, and four returns in that class were reported, or 40 more than in the preceding year.

There were 12,000 persons reporting net incomes between $50,000 and $100,000, a gain of 4,000 over 1921; 2,171 with incomes between $100,000 and $150,000, and 763 with incomes between $150,000 and $200,000.

England Will Be Americanized

London, July 7.—Great Britain eats as much ice cream every year as all the people of New York state plus two-thirds of those in Pennsylvania, according to those who manufacture it over here. Last year His Majesty's subjects consumed 20,000,000 gallons of this frozen product.

Air Passengers Are Reassured

Santa Monica, Cal., July 7.—A total of more than 10,000 airplane flights from Clover Field in 12 months resulted in only three accidents, according to the records, and from this the argument is advanced that flying is safer than automobile riding. The reckless aviator and the stunt flyer are said to be responsible for the prevailing delusions about the danger of flying.

Portland's High School Battler Another "Strib"

By NEA Service

Portland, Me., July 7.—Portland, Me., has its own Young Stribling in Jimmy "Kid" Rice, featherweight champion of Maine, a student at Portland High and, in addition, sole support of his family.

Rice has a mother, two sisters and a crippled father and through his boxing ability recently bought a two-family house in this city.

In addition to this Rice keeps up his studies at Portland High and expects to graduate from high school next year, following which he plans to enter college.

Rice is now under the management of Frankie DeRice, local boxing promoter, who started the fight game in Maine on its upward career.

DeRice noted Jimmie's possibilities and took him under his wing. Recently Rice went to New York for a month's training and made a great hit in Stillman's gym by knocking over Kid Williams, former bantam champion, in a practice session.

Rice is the only real high school boxer in the country today, for Stribling of Georgia has left school. Rice attends school regularly. He is only 18 years of age and his best ring asset is his ability to hit hard with either hand.

CONVERTED LEPER COLONY

Garrison, July 7.—Father Bonaventure Hansen, pioneer priest of Garrison, who left four years ago to do missionary work in the Bahama Islands, returned here last week to spend his vacation. He is situated at Harbor Island, a small island about two miles square. He is credited with the conversion of a leper colony there to Christianity.

DISBARMENT CASE DISMISSED

Fargo, July 7.—Disbarment proceedings instituted several months ago against Attorney Wm. Maloney of Fargo have been dismissed.

Judge Charles E. Wolfe of Wahpeton, who heard evidence in the case, covers the charges in his decision, declaring none of them have been established except that bankruptcy business had been solicited, and in this respect Judge Wolfe holds no law of the state has been violated, nor have the provisions of the federal law on bankruptcies been infringed upon.

Better Elevators
Make For Much Higher Buildings

Colorado Springs, Col., July 7.—The possibility of skyscrapers towering 750 feet into the air is becoming more imminent with the perfection of vertical systems of transportation, which surpass the present type of elevator system now employed in office buildings.

Longdyke of New York, said in a report submitted today to the convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

"Plans have been made for elevator cars controlled by a push button system to serve a building 60 stories in height, running an express service similar to an express service on a railway," said Mr. Longdyke.

"Stop at the tenth, twentieth, thirtieth and every ten floors to the top are provided, with a local service for each ten floors. While the plan may not be put in operation in the immediate future, I mention it as an illustration of the possibilities in future buildings of great height."

The push button system will be installed in the new Standard Oil building in New York, he declared. Under the system, the passenger announces his floor as he steps in WAR MADE HIM FAT, HE SAYS!

The war made him fat. So John W. Calhoun of Toronto, Ont., thinks he is entitled to more pension. A wound in the head, received while serving overseas with the Canadian forces, has caused his weight to jump from 192 to 440 pounds, John says. And medical treatment and Turkish baths, he declares, have failed to make him any thinner. Some idea of his size can be gained from this picture showing how dwarf-like these two youngsters appear alongside him.

the elevator and the operator pushes a button for that floor. The car is not stopped until it reaches the floor for which the button has been pushed, unless, prior to reaching that floor it arrives at one where there is a waiting passenger who has pushed a floor button.

WOMEN ARE INCREASING
ON WALL STREET

New York, July 7. (A. P.)—Wall Street is becoming more and more dependent upon women; the average space for each office worker in the financial district of Manhattan has been cut down over six percent in the last decade; bankers maintain more magnificent quarters and give their employees less elbow room than all other tenants of the most pretentious skyscrapers.

These are the outstanding conclusions of experts of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, after a survey of a group of the world's largest office buildings undertaken to obtain data for the use of architects in designing skyscrapers of the future.

Ten years ago, when the last accurate door-to-door census of first-class office buildings in the Wall Street district was taken, the average floor space for each worker was 125 square feet.

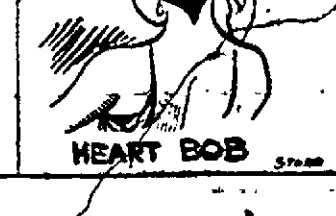

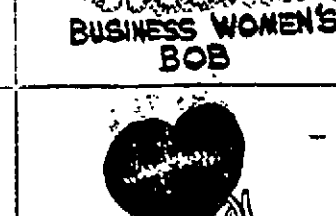

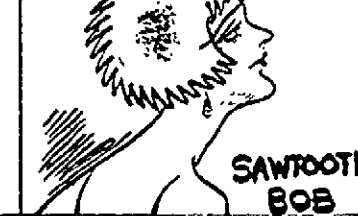

A similar census in a typical office building recently revealed that in a total population for the structure of 10,868, the proportion of men to women was only two to one, and that the average working space had been reduced to 107 square feet.

Plebiscite To

Of Prohibition

Regina, Sask., July 7. (A. P.)—The eyes of students of prohibition throughout the world are turned on Saskatchewan to see whether this province will follow Quebec, Alberta, Manitoba and British Columbia in turning to government sale as the best method of dealing with liquor. The question will be before the voters in a provincial plebiscite in July 1925.

The province of Saskatchewan has been dry since 1916. A plebiscite in 1920 continued the dry regime by a

DAHO CALLS ATTENTION TO
NEW NAT. PARK

Arco, Idaho, July 7.—The "Craters of the Moon" section, located about 40 miles south of here and recently made a national monument by action of President Coolidge, is so named because its weird lava formations bear a marked resemblance to the moon as seen through a telescope.

Countless scars are visible, located in a valley about 25 miles long and three miles wide, was the scene of great volcanic activity. Surrounding the district is timberland which is covered with wild animals.

A freak of the region is an immense underground cavern, hollowed out by a seething flow of molten lava, and down which automobiles can be driven for a considerable distance.

Other caverns glow with phosphorescent tints of volcanic ash, dead and cold, yet preventing the appearance of an active volcano. There are no rattlesnakes or other reptiles in the district, despite the fact that similar lava territory elsewhere is literally alive with them. Why there are no snakes in the "craters" is a question which no one can decide.

The region is not far from the beaten paths of tourist travel to Yellowstone National Park.

GRAIN IS USED FOR BREWING

Jena, Thuringia, July 7.—Dr. Abel, director of the institute of hygiene in Jena University, has compiled statistics showing the increasing amounts of grain used in brewing in Germany between 1918 and 1922, and says these figures impress brewers more favorably than they do specialists in hygiene.

The investigator says that from the beginning of September, 1920 to September, 1922, German brewers used 41 times as much food-stuffs in making beer as the foreign Quakers contributed for the relief of underfed German children. The increase of the alcoholic content of beer is declared by Dr. Abel, who says alcoholism has increased in Germany in direct proportion to the increased manufacture of heavier beer.

The Suremburg institute for the care of alcoholics dealt with only 20 cases in 1917, while the number of cases there in 1921 and 1922 respectively was 442 and 1,738. Other hospitals said by the doctor to show similar increases in alcoholic cases.

The Test That Failed

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

"I've lost everything. We're ruined." Having looked round the table as he spoke—at his wife, resplendent with diamonds; at his son, just down from Harvard, wearing his suit of elegant "campus togs"; at his daughter Eunice, with her disheveled, querulous face.

He looked from them at the costly furnishings of his town house, the imitation Louis Seize chairs and tables, the Parian tapestries. And he waited for the blow to strike. Sixty-nine—he was sixty-nine, and he had toiled like a slave in the city for his family year in and year out. A querulous wife, a querulous daughter, a worthless son—all looked on him as a machine for grinding out money for them.

He had resolved to put them all to this test of poverty. He had arranged his affairs so that he could take a three months' rest. Then he was going to pretend to have recovered a part of his losses, and they would resume living in a less extravagant way.

Perhaps it was because he was growing old, but he had been obsessed by this idea of his for months. Would they meet it? Would his wife live with him in a modest apartment with one maid, and his daughter dress simply, and his son get out and hunt for that job that he never found? This was the test, the crucial test that was to decide their future.

"Don't be so absurd, John!" "Don't be so ridiculous, father!" "Say, dad, think again!" So that was the way they took it! They didn't believe him. They had always called him stingy, too; they had asked to get their hands upon his fortune and make the money fly. Now—they couldn't believe him.

"I mean," he expounded, "that I have lost all but a few thousand dollars in speculation. I mean everything's gone. We'll have to take a new apartment in the suburbs and live like poor people."

"And give up the car? And our opera seats?" cried Eunice in anguish.

"Everything," said Haverling briefly.

Storms, reproaches, expostulations. "I told you to retire years ago," sobbed Mrs. Haverling, "instead of hanging on at your age, and throwing your money away on the exchange. How much have we lost?"

"It isn't what we've got left. It's what I can make. We got to get along on four thousand a year."

"A year? A month, you mean. A year?"

"What about my maid?" "Say, dad, you can't mean that! How about my club dues?"

Haverling got away at last. He had worked even better than he had anticipated. He telephoned his clerk Richards that night. Richards was his confidant in the matter. He had once wanted to marry Eunice, and of course Haverling had put his foot down, but Richards had fallen into line and Eunice had given him up. A presumption on Richards' part—but still, all that was forgotten. Richards was seeing to it that the business was carried on during his absence. Haverling was satisfied.

Mrs. Haverling was strangely meek the next day. She acquiesced in all his arrangements. The house was to be sold. Amelia, Eunice's maid, received notice. The boy was to give up his club and get a job. It was working. It was certainly working. When Haverling had accustomed them to the new way of living he would break the news of his trick. What rejoicing there would be.

"Doctor Keen to see you, sir." "Why, doctor?"

"Just called in for a little chat," said Keen. He seemed rather inquisitive, anxious about Haverling's health. "The fact is, your wife's worried," he confided with a false laugh, "but I guess we can reassure her. She says you're had business losses, eh?"

Reluctantly Haverling told him what he had told his wife. "Quite so," nodded Keen, and backed to the door.

Two men who had been waiting on the mat, came in and ranged themselves at Haverling's side. Through the open front door Haverling saw a tall waiter. He heard Keen speaking outside the door.

"Delusions of poverty, Mrs. Haverling. Yes, be my recovery, entirely, with care. He—"

Haverling's wild dash for freedom was brought up by the two guards. Struggling wildly, he was dragged toward the taxi—but not before he had seen the grin on the face of Richards, his traitorous clerk, who was supporting Eunice in his arms.

INDIA WILL ISOLATE
LEPERS

Manila, July 7.—Isolation of the leper is one of the serious problems of India, according to Dr. A. R. J. Douglas, of Bangalore, Burma, who is in the Philippines to make a detailed study of conditions of lepers in the islands and the methods of treatment employed at Cullion where 5,500 lepers are confined.

"We have 100,000 lepers registered in India and estimate that there are as many more unregistered," said Dr. Douglas. "There are 10,000 lepers in Burma alone, with 10,000 more unregistered."

"Isolation of the leper is one of the serious problems of India. The country is in the throes of several upheavals at present and too much pressure by the British might bring condemnation from the natives, complete isolation, as in the Philippines, would be almost impossible in India."

Dr. Douglas says tropical disease experts of India dispute the belief of some medical men that the chaulmoogra oil treatment for lepers is absolute, and that leprosy will be cleared from the earth within the next 50 years.

The Guaranty Fund Commission would be composed of the Governor, Attorney-General and Secretary of State, who now comprise the banking board, and would remove the three appointive members, who now, together with the Governor and State Examiner, comprise the commission.

The Governor would be required to name a man to supercede, and have all the powers of the bank examiner, and also to be Guaranty Fund Law Commissioner, from a list of three names submitted by the four officers of the Association of Depositors in Closed Banks. All appointments in the office in the future would be made in the same manner.

The state board of equalization would be required to levy annually sufficient taxes, together with other provisions of the act, to provide for the payment of interest and principal on bonds.

No state bank now in existence would be allowed to liquidate or nationalize unless steps were taken to this end before January 1, 1925.

AT DEMOCRATIC

E. H. MOORE

E. H. Moore of Cleveland and Youngstown, O., the James M. Cox presidential convention manager in 1920, is at the New York convention. It is likely he will be placed in general command of the forces which are fighting the nomination of William G. McAdoo. These forces have various candidates of their own and later may divide up but their first interest, in order that they themselves may win, is to beat the Californian.

AMAZED AT PROGRESS
Inspired by the picture of the bucking steer shown in the Rotogravure Section of a Springfield, Mass., daily paper, Thomas Carroll of Holyoke, Mass., was in the city last week for the Roundup. Mr. Carroll lived in Mandan in 1903 and was employed by the Northern-Pacific as switchman. "I expected to see a typical western town here—but you have more pep and improvement here than you can find in many of our eastern cities five times the size of Mandan," said Mr. Carroll. If you put that show on in the east you would have the big fight promoters and baseball magnates boiling with envy." Mr. Carroll left recently to visit relatives in Illinois.

timate progress. Stands of all the spring grains are fairly heavy and the plants are well rooted, this condition being fairly uniform for the various districts of the state, while seed growth is reported in most of the older sections to have shown a heavy decline in recent years. It is not considered as heavy as that of last year. Rice has headed out and some fields are beginning to turn indicating a start of harvest about the middle of July or about a week later than usual. Stands of rice vary greatly from poor to excellent, but the prospect as a whole is much better than a year ago. Flax has made almost normal progress, a few of the early fields reaching the bloom stage by the end of June. Much of the seeding this year was late and a larger percentage of the crop than usual will therefore be endangered by early fall frosts.

Weed growth in flax has been heavy in spots but in many cases is reported with the early seeded flax, when it usually attains the late seedings. Stands of flax appear on the whole to be in weeds and somewhat better than a year ago. Corn

Ireland Would Regain Export
Egg Trade

Dublin, July 7.—Patrick Hogan, the Free State minister for lands and agriculture, has introduced into the Dail a bill to regulate the export of eggs. Eggs are one of the most important of Irish exports, and the industry has recently shown signs of deterioration. In 1921 Ireland exported $50,000,000 worth of eggs, poultry and feathers, the value of the export being second only to that of cattle.

For the year ended March 30, 1924, the Free State export of eggs was only about $17,000,000. Part of the diminution is attributed to a fall in prices and the expansion of opportunity for continental competitors since the war. Before the war the Irish export was more than 50 percent greater than the Danish. Now it is less.

Under Mr. Hogan's bill all eggs for export must be collected in premises registered by the ministry of agriculture, tested and graded under official supervision and packed in standard boxes. It is hoped by abolishing defective packing and grading to double the Irish egg export.

Seal Catch Is
Lightest in Years

Ketchikan, Alaska, July 7. (A. P.) Sealing operations of Indians in southeastern Alaska this year were the lightest in the history of the Sitka division and netted only eight seal skins, according to Fisheries Warden M. J. O'Connor on his return from the division where he was in charge of the seal patrol maintained annually by the Bureau of Fisheries. Stormy weather prevailing during the early months of the year and low prices offered for seal skins caused the lightness of the operations.

Protestant Parish
Seeks Clergyman

Dublin, July 7. (A. P.)—The Protestant Bishop of Clogher, Dr. MacManaway, has struck a note of alarm in referring to the growing shortage of clergymen in the Church of Ireland. He has five vacant parishes in his diocese and "not a single suitable man in view for any of them." In his university days in Trinity College, he says, there were about 150 men preparing for the ministry. Now there are only from 20 to 30.

"It requires," the Bishop declared, "but a simple calculation to show that if this state of things continued for a comparatively short number of years the work of the church would come to a stop."

800 MILLIONS PAID U. S. IN INCOME TAXES

Average Net Income Person For Year 1922 Is Figured at $3,143.46

INCREASE SHOWN

Washington, July 7.—A total net income of $21,386,212,330, an amount equivalent to the gross yield of the nation, was reported subject to federal taxes by citizens of the United States for the calendar year 1922, it was disclosed in statistics of incomes or that year made public by the treasury.

On this income the federal government net received $8,657,308 from the 1,577,481 persons who admitted tax liability. This shows an increase over 1921 of $141,670,202, or 19.09 per cent. Taxes paid, of 125,305 in the number of returns filed and of $1,759,000,000 in total income subject to taxation.

Average Net Income
The average net income per person or family was $3,143.46 per tax payer while each theoretically paid $126.80 toward the upkeep of the government, and their taxes were at the rate of .04 per cent of their net incomes.

Based on the 1920 census, 67 per cent of the total population paid taxes and by the basis of calculation, each American citizen, whether man, woman or child, had a net income of $22 of $194.72, just ten dollars higher than in 1921.

The per capita tax by the federal government amounted to $7.87, almost one dollar more than in the previous year in which, however, a different schedule of tax levels was in effect.

More Have Million Incomes.
The year 1922 produced returns for 27 net incomes of one million dollars and over, the highest for this class since 1918, when a similar number was reported. There were 21 such incomes reported in 1921. In the class between $500,000 and one million dollars incomes, there were 161 returns as compared with 63 for 1921.

There were fewer returns showing net income between four hundred thousand and five hundred thousand dollars than between half a million and one million dollars. One hundred and nine returns in that class were reported, or 40 more than in the preceding year.

There were 12,000 persons reporting net incomes between $50,000 and $100,000, a gain of 4,000 over 1921; 2,171 with incomes between $100,000 and $150,000, and 763 with incomes between $150,000 and $200,000.

BANK CASES IN WILLISTON TO BE SET OVER

Minot, N. D., July 7.—The entire calendar of criminal cases in Williston county, including actions against 16 Williams county bank officials who were recently indicted by a county grand jury, scheduled to be tried during the term opening July 7, will go over until the fall term beginning on Nov. 10, according to E. R. Sinker of Minot, who returned from Williston, Mr. Sinker who is special prosecutor in actions originating from the grand jury, conferred with State's Attorney F. W. McGuinness of Williston and this decision was reached.

This action was deemed advisable, according to Mr. Sinker, because the term will be a long one and would require the prolonged presence of many farmer jurors who are busy now.

Included in the continued cases are charges against the entire board of Williams county commissioners, alleging "gross incompetency" in office. Embezzlement and acceptance of deposits in an insolvent bank figure in the cases against the bank officials.

Judge George H. Moelling of Williston, will preside at the term opening at Williston this Monday, which is expected to be brief and Judge John C. Lowe of Minot will preside at the November term.

The second is to see that our American flag is hung by code ethics. So that due respect may be given to the flag, it must be used as the emblem of country and not as a mere decoration."

Plan Program For National Auxiliary Meet

Women from all over the United States who will be in St. Paul Sept. 15-19, attending the annual meeting of the national American Legion auxiliary will find a full program of business and entertainment awaiting them, first plans of which are being formulated. Members of the national executive board will arrive on Sept. 12, and will conduct regular meetings so that all will be in readiness for the opening of the convention.

A reception for all delegates of the state capital will open the social functions of the convention proper on Monday Sept. 15. A state dinner at which 800 guests are expected to attend.

Mrs. W. D. Villers of St. Paul, chairman of the publicity committee for the convention, has made the following announcement:

"St. Paul wants to establish two precedents for all future conventions to follow. One is to have all entertainment outside of convention hours, in order that the delegates may not be deprived of the pleasure of their visit by attention to their work. The second is to see that the American flag is hung by code ethics. So that due respect may be given to the flag, it must be used as the emblem of our country and not as a mere decoration."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE THIRD PARTY

The Conference for Progressive Political Action which adopted a platform in Cleveland and nominated Robert M. LaFollette for the presidency becomes the real dark horse in the presidential campaign. The hope, of course, is not to win the election, but to secure enough electoral college votes for LaFollette to throw the election into the House of Representatives, and the experience of the last Congress is sufficient to indicate that anything may happen then.

That LaFollette would be a candidate has been the conviction of political observers for months. The apparent hesitation of the Senator has been nothing unusual in his long political career, nor in the political game. It was, doubtless, to a large extent staged and the Wisconsin Senator's manner of permitting opinion among his followers to consolidate stamps him as a practical politician of no mean ability.

The Cleveland Convention called itself progressive. There is no hard and fast definition, in politics, that separates the progressive from the other brands. The Cleveland convention was not composed of radicals as was the St. Paul convention, although the progressivism of many of the leaders in the Cleveland convention would lead them into somewhat similar paths of action. They definitely committed themselves against Communism, at least, by summarily rejecting a participant in the St. Paul radical convention as a member of their own.

The LaFollette platform sent to the convention contains many proposals for radical changes, though it does not proceed to the point where changes are demanded in the government such as the Communists might demand. Wise, honest service in the government would accomplish many of the objects set forth, under any party banner.

LaFollette will have a loose organization. Were it suddenly swept into power there would likely be more lack of unity than blighted the Republican majority in the last Congress. It is quite possible that the new party may have an important effect on the fortunes of the Republican or Democratic standard bearers in the presidential campaign, but the possibility of the third party accomplishing much more than defeating the candidates of one of the old parties is remote.

UNCERTAINTY

"One of the things that make golf a fascinating game is its uncertainty. Only the experts are fairly sure of themselves; and they make weird shots, at times."

Which is the text of an editorial by Brother Neg Cochran of Washington, produced when he got in, after trying to make it in 68 when the Lord equipped him to make it in 168. Whatever the score he turned in, he is dead right about the fascination of uncertainty.

Really, it is the uncertainty that puts the charm in any game, especially the great game called life. Uncertainty and imperfection, plus honest endeavor to put them down, compose life.

Every morning, old Adam awoke to a perfect day. His breakfast hung on the bushes beside his soft bed of moss. Not even a stocking to put on. No wandering collar button to hunt up. The climate delightful, with no chance for a weather-bureau-to-be-about-it.

Every animal and bird dropping in to say "Good morning." Perfection and certainty fixed. And when the Lord drove Adam out of Eden, He, in His unfathomable mercy, gave him uncertainty. Even Adam's daily bread became an uncertainty. He worked and grew.

Uncertainty—the charm in doing things, the seed of endeavor, the gamble in the great game, life! It is in the business of every one of us, whether we are of the poor who plant potatoes or the idle rich who buy limousines.

We see what is on the backs of the cards but it is what is upon their faces that counts. The ax of metal has always been an ugly tool, but when man first held it in his hands and glimpsed its possibilities, he had in his grasp a potentiality of progress, the beginnings of what might be, uncertainties of tremendous accomplishments.

What if it is only the experts who are fairly sure of themselves? They are not absolutely certain and their occasional rotten shots are simply spurs to make the rest of us study distance, wind and the middle of the fairway, in whatever business we are in, and, after all, the Lord does not demand of us par at every hole, but puts uncertainty in front of every one of us that we may shoot our very best.

No. 1 has to go his dumbest because of uncertainty as to what Nos. 2 and 3 will do. And so the whole human family progresses.

OUT

Grimm's giant, who squeezed a stone until water ran out, had nothing on the Japs. They expect to solve their problem of oil supply by extracting petroleum from shale in Manchuria.

Shale oil already is a big industry in Scotland. It will be, later, in America when underground pools of oil are exhausted. Oil-bearing shale exists in fabulous quantities in many of our western states. In a pinch we could go back to taking oil from coal as they used to—that's how it got the name "coal oil." Alcohol also awaits. There is no such thing as exhaustion of natural resources with modern scientists in the laboratory.

RUINED

No more uncertain business than catering to women's fashions. The bobbed hair craze has almost ruined the hair-cutting industry in which sales used to amount to 20 million dollars a year.

American women are spending several hundred millions a year for bobs and permanent waves, according to trade estimates. To have bobbed hair and renewal of "permanent" waves costs a woman an average of $100 a year. A lot to pay for a hair-cut.

A HOPEFUL CROP OUTLOOK

Wheat is now in the "shot blade," or, in other words, the heads are just ready to shoot out, and the wheat harvest will be on within 30 days. These next 30 days will be critical days for the whole Northwest, for on the weather of this period will largely depend the outcome of this year's wheat and small grain crop.

At the present time there is in prospect an unusually fine crop of wheat in North Dakota—but not, blighting winds in July might yet do much damage to it. Old pioneers of the state, however, say that there is the probability of a cool July, judging from past years. So far this has been an ideal wheat growing season, and the belief of the oldtimer is that it will continue so.

But whether it does or not, there is one consoling factor for the whole agricultural area of the Northwest, and that is a marked improvement in prices on all of the main grain crops and much of the other principal products of the region.

One year ago, July 3, 1923, the price of No. 1 Northern wheat in Fargo was 98 cents a bushel and durum wheat was 87 cents. On July 3, this year, No. 1 Northern wheat was $1.22 a bushel in Fargo and durum wheat was $1.08.

A year ago No. 2 white oats were 36 cents in Fargo; barley was 48 cents; No. 1 rye was 49 cents. This year on July 3 found white oats at 45 cents; barley at 65 cents and rye at 65 cents.

A year ago butterfat was selling in Fargo at 37 cents a pound, packing stock butter at 18 cents and eggs at $5.10 a case. This year butterfat is 41 cents; packing stock, 24 cents, and eggs $6.90 a case.

Flax is the only item of the principal agricultural products quoted daily in The Forum that shows a falling off in price. A year ago flax was selling at $2.36 a bushel. This year it is $1.19.

This general advance, in everything the farmer has to sell, is encouraging. It proves one thing conclusively: the great economic laws of supply and demand are slowly but surely bringing about that balance which was certain to follow a continued depressed price of the products of one class of producers, while much higher prices were obtained for the products of other classes of producers.

With a much better crop and much better prices in prospect than a year ago, the farmers of the state are facing a brighter situation than for years, which means a more hopeful outlook for the whole state—Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

One day the Twins, Nancy and Nick, were picking wild flowers in the woods when the funniest little man you ever saw appeared at their feet.

"Hold on there!" he shouted merrily. "Don't pick me, please. I'm not a wild flower—I'm a fairy."

"Oh, you are?" cried the Twins in surprise, dropping down on their knees. "We love fairies!"

"Well, I'm glad of that," said the little fellow. "For I expect you'll see a good bit of me before we're through."

"Through with what?" asked Nick. "Well, you see it's this way," said the fairy, sitting down on a stone and crossing his knees. "My name is Zip-Mister Zip—and I'm going to stay at home evenings he hunts a place at home evenings he hunts a place and sleeps until bedtime."

"Hopping rain toads!" exclaimed Mister Zip. "Don't go so fast, please. I was coming to that pretty soon. Well, as I was saying, I need help, so I went to the Fairy Queen and told her my troubles."

"And what did she say?" asked Nick. "There! There!" laughed Mister Zip. "I'll tell you what the Fairy Queen said. She said, 'Go to the Twins at once, Mister Zip, and take them these magic shoes. Nancy and Nick are the best little helpers I know, and these magic shoes will make them just the right size so they won't be stepping on you all the time.' And so saying, she reached down behind the stone and held up the pair of green shoes."

Nancy and Nick slipped the shoes on and suddenly a funny thing happened. The place where the Twins had stood was as empty as air. It seemed as though the ground must have opened up and swallowed them. Mister Zip was so astonished that he fell clear off the stone he was sitting on. "Where are you, Twins?" he called loudly. "Nancy! Nick! Where are you?"

And then he had to laugh for there were the Twins under a daisy plant right beside him.

"We're all ready to go!" said Nancy happily. "Where is your amusement park, Mister Zip?"

"Right over there on the edge of the woods near that patch of May apple blossoms," said the fairyman. "Come on and I'll show you. There's a merry-go-round and a roller coaster and a ferris wheel and everything you can think of. With a skip and a run they reached the place beside the May blossom patch and as sure as the moon's round wasn't there the cutest little park you ever saw with a fence around it and a place to take tickets 'n' everything—just like a big park in the cities where you've been lots of times. There were free swings and sliding boards and sand piles for the children to play in and places to sell ice cream cones and lemonade and lollypops and peanuts. And a merry-go-round and a roller coaster and everything—just as Mister Zip said. Only these things were not free. Over the gate was a big sign which said, "Happy-Go-Lucky Park, Come In."

Would Give all Citizens Over Forty, Two Votes

By Milton Brommer
NEA Service Writer

London, July 7.—In Great Britain all male citizens over 21 now have the vote. Women over 30 have the vote. Women over 21 have the vote. Parliament is now considering making all women over 21 voters.

And this has led to a quaint proposal. One man has written to some of the members of Parliament saying that by all means the young people of both sexes should be given all the responsibilities of citizenship. But he thinks the experience of age should also be recognized.

FABLES ON HEALTH—
VALUE OF SOUP

Winter or summer, soup appeared each evening upon the dinner table of the Jones family.

Many have the idea that soup is not a summer dish—but this is purely a matter of taste.

Clear soup at the commencement of a meal favors good digestion; the fluid is quickly absorbed and the sustenance contained in it acts most favorably upon the circulation, stimulates the secretion of gastric juices and satisfies temporarily the craving for hunger.

Therefore he thinks that every citizen 40 years old and over should have two votes. It is the old English idea of plural voting.

Even now some people, by reason of doing business in what is known as the "City" in London, vote for candidates for Parliament there and also for candidates in the country district where they live.

In fairy books wizards make the desert blossom like a rose. The Prince of Wales possesses the gift of making dead seaside resorts spring to magic life for a few short hours.

For instance: Le Tourquet is a famous French seaside place on the English Channel. But the season is very short—only July and August. But recently the prince took a notion to spend his Whitsuntide holidays there.

Instantly the biggest hotel in the place began turning people away. The Casino, where people dine and dance and play roulette and baccarat, was packed. The streets were crowded with pedestrians and autos. The shops opened and displayed the latest Paris creations. It was as if August had come in June.

Then the heir to Britain's throne returned home and once more June came to Le Tourquet, with the streets deserted and only the nightingales busy in the pine forests.

Nobody loves to pay taxes, but Latin people seem to loathe the parent loss of temper.

The fact that it is "hot" is used by many as an argument against soup in summer. They say they prefer "something cool."

There is no reason why soup should be eaten "hot." In fact, summer or winter, it is preferable that it not be, as the throat and stomach lining may be irritated by the excessive heat.

But, served at normal heat, it is far preferable as a summer food to a continuous round of "cold" drinks which are in no sense permanently cooling.

Idea more than most. No French government has dared levy war taxes similar to those in vogue in America and England.

And now comes an extraordinary story of the actions of the peasant folk living on the little farms near Teano, between Rome and Naples. Mussolini had named a royal commissioner to collect taxes, many of which were two years in arrears.

So one day the farmers came to town, beat up the commissioner, set fire to the town hall and endeavored to destroy the tax books. The Italian government was forced to send great numbers of troops to the district to restore order.

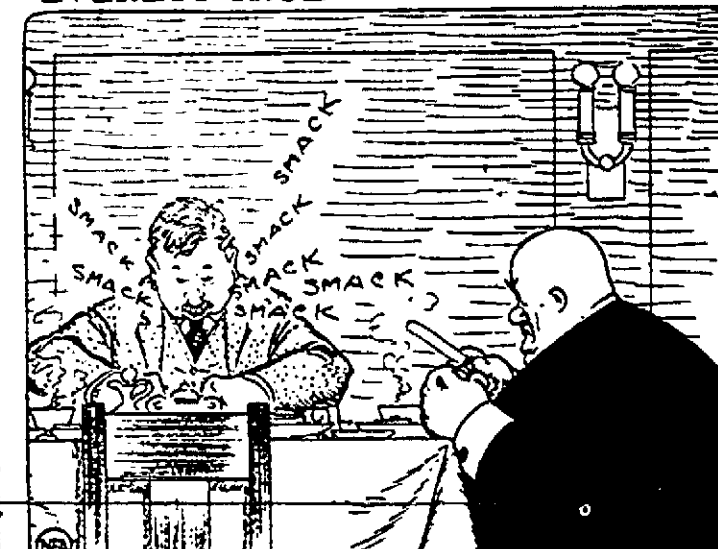

The London crowd is the most patient, the best-natured, the most considerate on earth. In New York we have suffocating crowds in the subway every day, but we never get used to it.

We curse the authorities who allow it and we curse the transportation trust. In London ordinarily most people get seats in the subway.

But recently an unofficial strike, not countenanced by the unions, seriously crippled the subway service. The result was Londoners got the unusual and uncomfortable sensation of a New York rush hour period. But nobody cursed either the company or the strikers. People got on and off the trains as quietly as possible. And everybody tried to help everybody else. There was no apparent loss of temper.

IN A RUN OF BAD LUCK

By Albert Apple

Did you ever try to do something that you simply could not accomplish, no matter how much effort you put into it? We are not referring to impossible tasks, but to cases where a sort of invisible presence seems to frustrate us, as if we were on the wrong track and being warned away. You've heard people say: "I've been trying to do that thing for months. But something always goes wrong whenever I get busy on it."

The element of luck or fate intervenes.

We know a man who is a star traveling salesman. It is quite plainly his intended work, but he dislikes it. Time after time, having saved up a "grubstake," he has quit salesmanship and tried farming in various forms—from truck gardens to chicken ranches.

He puts his last ounce of effort into these excursions into farming. But somehow he is never able to make a go of it. Always he fails and is driven back to the selling game.

This salesman says: "I have decided that every one is put on earth for some definite purpose. We succeed if we do what we were intended to do in this life, even though it is not what we want to do. Nature endows us with certain gifts or abilities for doing what we were intended to do—our mission on earth. If we stick to our plain duty, we'll be reasonably prosperous."

You probably have read "Twenty Years of Hustling," the book that used to have such a big sale in auction rooms. It is a history of its author's life. For 20 years he roamed, trying all sorts of schemes, mostly street selling. Every time he'd go broke, he'd get out an old formula he had, and mix up a batch of polish. It was fine polish, sold like hot cakes, always pulled him out of the hole.

It took him 20 years to waken to the fact that his fortune was in this polish. Then he settled down, built a factory, manufactured polish on a big scale, became very successful.

Making and selling polish was what he was intended to do. The thing we do best and most easily is the thing we are intended to do. Yes, even though it isn't what we want to do.

As the vaudeville booking agents say: "When they can sing they want to dance. And when they can dance, they want to sing."

"Why Ruth, you have been describing a regular vampire," I exclaimed. "How you must dislike Sally Atherton!"

"No," answered Ruth. "Sally Atherton is not the conventional vamp, for she would brush a man out of her way as quickly as she would a woman, if either stood in her path for the coveted goal not only of love but of any other ambition."

"But, Ruth," I expostulated, "that is the accepted idea of a vamp since Kipling wrote the poem 'A Fool There Was.' We all agree that the vamp feeds upon both men and women, and considers walking on the faces of her friends her most noble indoor sport and a pleasant pastime."

Ruth did not even smile at my flippancy. She said very seriously: "Oh, I know all that, Leslie, and I do not think such women are wholly to blame. They are just made so that they have no understanding of their duty toward any one or anything except themselves."

"You have told me much of Sally Atherton's life with her husband, and it seems to me that ill-fated marriage has crystallized her hardness and determination to have her own way and live her own life at any cost, not only to others but to herself."

"She has seen so much selfishness in others that she has come to the conclusion that it is only the selfish person that gets what he wants. You and I, my dear, know better than that."

"I oughtn't to take any great pride to myself for my own marriage, for I made a great mess of it. I tried to be a good wife to Harry—you know that, Leslie. Although I came in for a great deal of very unkind gossip because of Walter Burke, yet you also know that when a man neglects his wife there is always some man in the offing that is perfectly willing to make it up to her. Harry never had a man friend except Jack that did not tell me that I was a fool to trust my husband, and intimate to me that he was much more trustworthy."

"Yes, I will make another exception, and it may seem strange to you. That exception was Walter. Walter was friendly to me, he was kind to me, but he never made love to me until after Harry ran away with that other woman."

Ruth liked my bobbed hair very much, little Marjorie, in fact, every one does, and I think after Jack gets used to it, he'll like it very much himself. Isn't it a queer thing that a man thinks his wife belongs to him to such an extent that he can tell her when and how to cut her hair, or rather when she shall not cut her hair?"

"I'm going to take Ruth's advice, dear little Marjorie, and cut it little, and see what will turn up in regard to the pearls. At least I shall wait until after Walter Burke returns and find out whether Ruth will keep the shop."

Meanwhile I'm going to have a great big society function to celebrate my third anniversary."

APARTMENT HOUSES DRIVING MOVIE INDUSTRY FROM HOLLYWOOD

BY JACK JUNGMEYER
NEA Service Writer

Hollywood, July 2.—Hollywood—first a village, then an industrial center, now almost a tradition. The traditional Hollywood will remain even when the movie studios are gone.

And Hollywood's studios are, dropping off, one by one. The latest, heaviest blow to Hollywood as a motion picture producing center was the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production combine, which drove the Metro and Mayer units to the Goldwyn studio at Culver City, Calif.

Almost overnight the three and a half city blocks covered by the Metro studios became deserted. All gone except Jackie Coogan's company. Now "Robinson Crusoe Junior" is finished and he's gone, but blocks, once crisscrossed with huge stages, the others a patchwork of streets from nearly every country in the world, are too valuable per front foot to hold for movie producing. Bungalow courts and apartment houses will be built there.

Four blocks away is the National studio, one of the oldest in southern Hollywood, a small one-story studio where the late Billy Farnum made comedies and where many an independent producer, too poor to rent space at a modern studio, has made his pictures. Carpenters are rapidly dismantling it to make room for modern apartments. A new National studio is projected for Westwood, which is between Hollywood and the ocean.

Half a mile north is Christie studio. The Christie brothers, "discoverts of Hollywood" plan to desert it now. The Christie Realty Company will probably turn the site into income property as soon as it builds a new studio at Westwood.

When Christie forsakes "comedy corner," at Sunset and Gower, probably the Century Film Company, across the street, will also see the light; maybe take its units under the wing of Austin University put in the valley.

LOCALS BEAT INDIANS HERE IN GOOD GAME

Joe Day and Sorlien Oppose Each Other on the Mound In The Contest

Playing a fast grade of ball, the local Independents won from the Cannon Ball Indians here Sunday afternoon, 6 to 1. Joe Day, who twirled for Bismarck's 1923 League team and who has since been with Hibbing, pitched six innings for the visitors, striking out 12 men during that time. His best exploit was in the fourth inning when he fanned five Bismarck batters. The catcher dropped two third strikes, making this feat possible. The Independents delighted the crowd with three fast double plays, Fuller, DeRoche and Simmons participating.

Sorlien pitched fine ball for Bismarck and had good support.

Next Sunday the fast Minot team comes to Bismarck at 3 p. m. sharp.

BILLY CONLEY WINS BOUT

Fred Barth, former Mott, North Dakota box fighter, today wired the name of Billy Conley, today wired his brother, Jacob Barth, that he won his fourth of July fight in Idaho, with Bob Sage of Detroit, Michigan. The fight was scheduled for 20 rounds. Billy Conley will stop off here in a few days on his return to the east.

KELLEY TRADES MILLER PLAYERS

Minneapolis, Minn., July 7.—The biggest baseball deal of the season in the American association was consummated Sunday night by Mike Kelley when he traded pitcher Leo Magnus and Catcher Joe Grabowski, his pet battery, to Charley Coniskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, in exchange for infielder Ray French and Bill Block, Catcher Elwood Wirts and Pitcher Douglas Mcweeney.

Kelley also will receive another pitcher of note and a large sum of money, the exact amount of which he refuses to make public.

Billy Evans Says

In the major leagues this season, there are just about as even dozen pitchers who have been in the main canoply 12 years or more.

Strange to relate, three of them are on the same club. Reference is made to Pennock, Bush and Shawkey of the Yankees. Each got his start with the Athletics back around 1912.

But despite their long service in big time, two of them—Bush and Pennock—left the American League gunners as late as 1922 and 1923. In 1922, Bush, by virtue of a sensational comeback, showed the way to the rest of the field, while Pennock, a team mate, turned the trick last season. A pair of note-worthy records, indeed! The work of each played a big part in the success of the Huggins entourage those years.

Not only do the Yanks boast three of the oldest hurlers in the game in point of service, but in Sam Jones they have another who only lacks a season or so of being up as lengthy a time as Shawkey, Bush and Pennock. Jones, likewise, had a pretty good year in 1923.

That the Yankees have the oldest pitching staff in baseball is a well-known fact. They're veterans in every sense of the word. For a dozen seasons or more in the majors is quite a stretch for a pitcher. Cy Young, Matty and some of the other old-timers leaped far beyond that mark, but they were exceptions in more than one respect.

The present Huggins staff may keep hurling winning ball for some time to come. And then again it may not. It's problematical of course, and that is certain, however, and that is that Shawkey, Bush and Pennock et al. can not get on indefinitely. They are bound to hit the showers sooner or later. Obviously, it behooves the Gotham management to corral a bit of young pitching material for future use.

For outside of the White Sox, who came up in 1919, the Yankees have none but veterans among their regular pitching corps. As outlined at present, Huggins'

WESTERN MAIDEN BREAKS RECORD IN HURDLE RACE

A new woman's national intercollegiate record for the 65-yard hurdles was established recently in a telegraphic meet at Des Moines, Ia., when Nancy Aten of Drake University clipped a tenth of a second off the old mark.

Staff faces ruin, should the pitchers falter simultaneously from the wear and tear of long service.

New York Yankees Take Four Out of Five in Series

Chicago, July 7.—The New York Yankees concluded its five-game series with Washington Sunday with a victory, and moved nearer to displacing the Senators from the American League leadership. The Yanks took four of the five games of the series. The world champions scored four runs in the ninth inning, winning 7 to 4. Babe Ruth got his 22nd homer of the season, in the eighth.

Danforth held Detroit to three hits and St. Louis won, 5 to 1. Sisler and pitcher Cole of Detroit made home runs. The Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland, 9 to 6, in a free hitting affair.

In the Nationals Jimmy Ring of Philadelphia administered the first white wash dose of the season to the Giants, the score being 2 to 0 in the second game. In the first New York won, 5 to 1. "Cy" Williams of Philadelphia got his ninth homer of the season.

The Pirates beat Cincinnati, 9 to 2. Brooklyn and Boston divided a double header, Boston taking the first, 4 to 1, and Beuther pitching a shutout in the second. St. Louis beat Chicago, 13 to 4.

The Nut Cracker

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO

The thing that makes the favorite son business, as practiced by politicians, all wrong, like red ants in the picnic pickles, is the horrible judgment displayed in selecting said favorite sons.

Who is the favorite son of Georgia? Ty Cobb, of course. And was Ty's name put in nomination at

Grove Takes Another Game, Washburn Loses

Southpaw Scott turned in the twelfth straight win for the Grove gang Sunday afternoon when he blanked the fast Washburn outfit on the local field. Hurling pretty ball all the way, he was never in danger excepting in the sixth frame, when Tower hit a single and Cunningham swatted out a two-bagger, Scott then tightened up and retired the three next men that faced him. The Grove gang secured one run in the second frame, one in the last year. Next Smith crashed over the wall for a homer and in the eighth again counted one score. This contest was easily the fastest and cleanest exhibition staged on the local field this season. Tower, on the mound for the visitors, pitched nice ball all the way, but hitting when it counted and errors by his team-mates lost the game for him. The team that the Penitentiary has in the field this season is by far the best organized and evenly balanced team, so the manager states, that Grove has put into the field in the last year. Next Sunday, July 13, the fast Cannon Ball team is scheduled to play on the Grove diamond against the undefeated Grove gang and the game will commence promptly at 2 p. m.

Michigan Banking On Her Two Stars In Olympic Games

By NEA Service
Ann Arbor, Mich., July 7.—Two Michigan athletes—Delhart Hubbard and Jim Brooker—will compete for America in the Olympic games at Paris in July. They were the only Malze and Blue entries to survive the final tryouts at Boston.

Hubbard will appear in the running broad and hop, step and jump events. In both he stands an excellent chance of finishing first. Furthermore, he may hang up new world records. His present broad jump mark is 25 feet 2 inches, just a scant inch behind the record held by Ned Gourdin, former Harvard star, made several years ago. In the hop, step and jump affair he hits 48 feet consistently.

Brooker will compete in his activities to the pole vault. He's good for 17 feet practically every time out. With Dean Brownell of Illinois out of the games, Brownell looms as Uncle Sams best bet in the vaulting event.

Hubbard and Brooker, by the way, are two of the greatest athletes Michigan has boasted in some time. Both are Juniors and with another year of collegiate competition should better their present records in their favorite events. Brooker was recently elected captain of the 1925 team. He hails from Cass City, a little town in Michigan. Hubbard's home is in Cincinnati.

Oddly enough, Michigan also had two representatives on the 1920 Olympic aggregation. One was the center fielder, Carl Johnson, hurdler, and broad jumper and sprinter. The other was "Duke" Dunne. Johnson finished second in the running broad jump, but Dunne failed to place in any of his specialties, the weights.

Commerce Teams Will Resume

The Lahr Motors and Hardware teams will meet Tuesday night in the continuation of the Commercial League schedule. If the Hardware team wins it goes to 7½ to 9, now being tied with the Alex Rosen and Brother team for first place.

WIFE VOTES "AYE"; HUSBAND "NAY"

The time-honored theory that a wife votes as her husband has been finally exploded—at least in the Pattangali family. Both W. Pattangali presented the famous anti-Klan plank while Mrs. Pattangali sat calmly back and, acting as her husband's alternate while he was on the stand, voted against the plank he was presenting, proving that a woman may cling to her political convictions in spite of hubby's attitude.

PUBLIC DEMAND WILD WEST SHOW THIS SEASON

Ponca Bill Induced to Join Robbins Bros., Because of His Growing Popularity

The addition of the wild west show to the Robbins Bros. circus this season is made by public demand. Everywhere one travels he is constantly met with a request for the old time wild west show. There has been no organized wild west show on the road for over ten years—really the wild west shows went off the road with the passing of Buffalo Bill.

The old time wild west show with real cowboys and real cowgirls—men and women of the plains, with the old west, will always be a popular form of amusement. There is only one organized wild west show in America today and that is Ponca Bill's. His show is with the Robbins Bros. circus and is given in conjunction with that performance.

Playing a fast grade of ball, the local Independents won from the Cannon Ball Indians here Sunday afternoon, 9 to 1. Joe Day, who pitched for the Indians, 1923 League team and who has been with Hibbing, pitched six innings for the visitors, striking out 12 men during that time. The Independents delighted the crowd with three last double plays. Fuller, Dekeford and Sorlien participating.

Sorlien pitched fine ball for Bismarck and had good support. Next Sunday the fast Minot team comes to Bismarck at 3 p. m. sharp.

BILLY CONLEY WINS BOUT

Fred Barth, former Mott, North Dakota boy, who fights under the name of Billy Conley, today wired his brother, Jacob Barth, that he won his fourth of July fight in Idaho, with Bob Sage of Detroit, Michigan. The fight was scheduled for 20 rounds. Billy Conley will stop off here in a few days on his return to the east.

KELLEY TRADES MILLER PLAYERS

Minneapolis, Minn., July 7.—The biggest baseball deal of the season in the American association was consummated Sunday night by Mike Kelley when he traded Pitcher Lee Magnus and Catcher Joe Grabowski, his best battery, to Charles Gossamer, owner of the Chicago White Sox, in exchange for Leavelle French and Bill Black, Catcher Elwood Wirts and Pitcher Douglas McWeeny.

Billy Evans Says

In the major leagues this season, there are just about an even dozen pitchers who have been in the main category 10 years or more.

But despite their long service in big time, two of them—Bush and Pennock—led the American League gunners as late as 1922 and 1923. In 1922, Bush, by virtue of a sensational comeback, showed the way to the rest of the field, while Pennock, a teammate, turned the trick last season. A pair of noteworthy records, indeed! The work of each played a big part in the success of the Huggins' team these years.

Not only do the Yankees boast three of the oldest hurlers in the game in point of service, but in Sam Rice, they have another who only lacks a season or so of being up as lengthy a time as Shawkey, Bush and Pennock. Jones, likewise, had a pretty good year in 1923.

That the Yankees have the object pitching staff in baseball is a well-known fact. They're veterans in every sense of the word. For a dozen seasons or more in the majors, they've shown the way to the rest of the old-timers leaped far beyond that mark, but they were exceptions in more than one respect.

The present Huggins staff may keep hurling winning ball for some time to come. And then again it may not. It's problematical of course.

One thing is certain, however, and that is that Shawkey, Bush and Pennock et al. can not get on indefinitely. They are bound to hit the showers sooner or later. Obviously, it behooves the Gotham management to corner a bit of young pitching material for future use. For outside of White Sox, who came up in 1919, the Yankees have none but veterans among their regular pitching corps. As outlined at present, Huggins

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO
The thing that makes the favorite son business, as practiced by politicians, all wrong, like red ants in the picnic pickles, is the horrible judgment displayed in selecting said favorite sons.

Who is the favorite son of Georgia? Ty Cobb, of course. And was Ty's name put in nomination at

Grove Takes Another Game, Washburn Loses

Southpaw Scott turned in the twelfth straight win for the Grove gang Sunday afternoon when he blanked the fast Washburn outfit on the local field. Hurling pretty ball all the way, he was never in danger excepting in the sixth frame, when Tower hit a single and Cunningham swatted out a two-bagger, Scott then tightened up and retired the three next men that faced him. The Grove gang secured one run in the second frame, one in the sixth when R. E. Smith crashed one over the wall for a homer and in the eighth again counted one score. This contest was easily the fastest and cleanest exhibition staged on the local field this season. Tower, on the mound for the visitors, pitched nice ball all the way, but hitting when it counted and errors by his team-mates lost the game for him. The team that the Penitentiary has in the field this season is by far the best organized and evenly balanced team, so the manager states, that Grove has put into the field in the last ten years. Next Sunday, July 13, the fast Cannon Ball team is scheduled to play on the Grove diamond against the undefeated Grove gang and the game will commence promptly at 2 p. m.

Michigan Banking On Her Two Stars In Olympic Games

By NEA Service
Ann Arbor, Mich., July 7.—Two Michigan athletes—Dellart Hubbard and Jim Brooker—will compete for America in the Olympic games at Paris in July. They were the only Maize and Blue entries to survive the final tryouts at the Michigan Athletic Club.

Hubbard will appear in the running broad and high jump and events. In both he stands an excellent chance of finishing first. Furthermore, he may hang up new world's records. His present broad jump mark is 25 feet 2 inches, just a scant inch behind the record leap of Ned Gourdin, former Harvard star, made several years ago. In the hop, step and jump affair he hits 48 feet consistently.

Brooker will confine his activities to the pole vault. He's good for 17 feet practically every time out. With Leann Brownell of Illinois out of the games, Brownell looms as Uncle Sam's best bet in the vaulting event.

Hubbard and Brooker, by the way, are two of the greatest athletes Michigan has boasted in some time. Both are Juniors and with another year of collegiate competition should better their present records in their favorite events.

Commerce Teams Will Resume

The Lahr Motors and Hardware teams will meet Tuesday night in the resumption of the Commercial League schedule. If the Hardware team wins it goes to the top, now being tied with the Alex Rosen and Brother team for first place.

PLATFORM OF PROGRESSIVE UNIT GIVEN

LaFollette Group Demands Tax on Excess Profits, Stock Dividends, Etc.

FOR MARKET AGENCY

Favors Creation of Government-Owned Agency as an Agricultural Aid

Text of the platform adopted at the Cleveland convention which nominated Senator LaFollette follows:

For one hundred and forty-eight years the American people have been seeking to establish a government for the service of all and to prevent the establishment of a government for the mastery of the few. Free men of every generation must combat the new efforts of organized force and greed to destroy liberty. Every generation must wage a new war for freedom against new forces that seek through new devices to enslave mankind.

Under our representative democracy the people protect their liberties through their public agents.

The test of public officials and public policies alike must be: Will they serve us or will they exploit the common need?

The reactionary continues to put his faith in mastery for the solution of all problems. He seeks to have what he calls the "strong men and best minds" rule and impose their decisions on the masses of their weaker brethren.

The progressive, on the contrary, contends for less autocracy and more democracy in government and more power of privilege and greater obligation of service.

Under the principle of ruthless individualism and competition, that government is deemed best which offers to the few the greatest chance of individual gain.

Under the progressive principle of co-operation that government is deemed best which offers to the many the highest of average happiness and well being.

It is our faith that we all go up or down together—that class gains are temporary delusions and that eternal laws of competition make every man his brother's keeper.

Program
In that faith we present our program of public force:

1. The use of the power of the federal government to crush private monopoly, not to foster it.

2. Unqualified enforcement of the constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, press and assembly.

3. Public ownership of the nation's water power and creation of a public superpower system. Strict public control and permanent conservation of all natural resources, including coal, iron and other ores, oil and timber lands, in the interest of the people. Promotion of public works in times of business depression.

4. Retention of sur-taxes on swollen incomes, restoration of the tax on excess profits, taxation of stock dividends, profits undistributed to evade taxes, rapidly progressive taxes on large estates and inheritances, and repeal of excessive tariff duties, especially on trust-controlled necessities of life and of nuisance taxes on consumption, to relieve the people of the present unjust burden of taxation and compel those who profit by the war to pay their share of the war's costs, and to provide the funds for adjusted compensation solemnly pledged to the veterans of the World War.

5. Reconstruction of the Federal Reserve and Federal Farm Loan systems to provide for direct public control of the nation's money and credit to make it available on fair terms to all, and national and state legislation to permit and promote co-operative banking.

6. Adequate laws to guarantee to farmers and industrial workers the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing for the maintenance or improvement of their standards of life.

7. Creation of a government marketing corporation to provide a direct route between farm producer and city consumer and to assure farmers fair prices for their products, and protect consumers from the profiteers in foodstuffs and other necessities of life. Legislation to control the meat-packing industries.

8. Protection and aid of co-operative enterprises by national and state legislation.

9. Common international action to effect the economic recovery of the world from the effects of the World War.

10. Repeal of the Esch Cummins law, public ownership of railroads, with democratic operation, with definite safeguards against bureaucratic control.

11. Abolition of the tyranny and usurpation of the courts, including the practice of nullifying legislation in conflict with the political, social or economic theories of the judges. Abolition of injunctions in labor disputes and of the power to punish for contempt without trial by jury. Election of all federal judges without party designation for limited terms.

12. Prompt restoration of the child labor amendment and subsequent enactment of a federal law to protect children in industry. Removal of legal discriminations against women by measures not prejudicial to legislation necessary for the protection of women and for the advancement of social welfare.

13. A deep water-way from the Great Lakes to the sea.

14. We denounce the mercenary system of degraded foreign policy under recent administrations in the interests of financial imperialism, monopolies and international bankers, which has degraded our state department from its high tem in the federal civil service to all its branches and transfer of the functions of the personnel classification board to the United States Civil Service commission.

4. Resolved, that we favor the immediate and complete independence of the Philippine islands, in accordance with the pledges of the official representatives of the American people.

5. Resolved, that we deeply sympathize with the aspirations of the Irish people for freedom and independence.

6. Resolved, that in the prevailing starvation in Germany, which, according to authoritative evidence, is beyond the scope of private charity, and in the event of like destitution in any other country, we consider it humane and just, and in conformity with our traditions and former practices, that the aid of our government should be extended in the form of the delivery of surplus food supplies to a reasonable amount, and upon such conditions as the emergency may justify.

7. Resolved, that we denounce every such use of the armed forces of the United States to aid in the exploitation of weaker nations, as has occurred all too frequently in our relations with Haiti, San Domingo, Nicaragua and other nations of Central and South America.

PRES. COOLIDGE WRITES NORTH DAKOTA WOMAN

Mrs. Fred Mann of Devils Lake, Member of G. O. P. Committee, Receives Word

Devils Lake, N. D., July 7.—Mrs. Fred P. Mann of Devils Lake, who was appointed a member of the Republican national committee during the recent national convention at Cleveland has received a letter from President Calvin Coolidge in which he calls attention to the fact that the Republican national committee has received too little attention and that the committee this year is a more representative body than heretofore. President Coolidge's letter to Mrs. Mann follows:

The White House
Washington
June 18, 1924.

My Dear Mrs. Mann:
At this earliest opportunity, I want to express my gratification that you are to serve from your state as a member of the new Republican national committee. While membership in this important body is a very real distinction, I have always felt that it brings all too little appreciation. The national committee is necessarily one of the most important instruments that have been devised under our form of government, through parties. In it is centered the business conduct of the party, involving a great responsibility. The members of the committee are volunteer patriots, serving from no other motive than devotion to the cause. To them falls the tasks of organization and management, with little of tangible recognition or official reward. It is therefore fitting that acknowledgment be made of the obligation due to them from both the party nominees and the great rank and file of the organization. I cannot express this often, but I want you to know I always feel it.

The national committee becomes this year a far more representative body than ever before, for its membership now comprises both men and women, serving on a basis of complete equality, precisely as the full duties of citizenship have been conferred upon them. This marks a long advance, and is as I wanted it.

Many responsibilities have come to me, but you will share them. Upon your energy, wisdom, and patriotic efforts, will largely depend the effectiveness of our appeal to the nation. I want that appeal based upon the highest considerations of public interest and welfare. The long history of national reliance in the Republican party justifies us in all confidence that if our claims are sincerely and candidly presented we shall be rewarded with a satisfactory response from the nation.

I want you to feel how much I appreciate the services which you are so generously giving.

Very truly yours,
CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Wisconsin Ranks With Powers In Rowing Circle

By NEA Service
Madison, Wis., July 7.—Wisconsin's eight-oared shell didn't win the annual rowing classic on the Hudson this year, being beaten two lengths by Washington, but the Badgers did gain a splendid moral victory.

Considered a forlorn hope at the start, the Madison oarsmen sprang one of the biggest upsets in years by forcing the western huskies to the limit all the way. Cornell, Penn. Syracuse and Columbia, all esteemed highly by the experts, were out-rowed.

Wisconsin hadn't sent a crew east since 1914. For several years the school hadn't even boasted a shell. And yet, in the premier race of the season, it passed them all but Washington, winner in 1923 and conceded a certain winner this year.

It was a moral triumph, nothing less, for Coach "Dad" Vail and his Badgers.

THOMAS JEFFERSON HEADS CAST IN "LIGHTNIN'" COMING TO AUDITORIUM

Felix Haney and Thomas Jefferson in "Lightnin'"

Two representatives of John Golden, the New York theatrical producer, were in town yesterday to confer with the management of the Auditorium with reference to the engagement of Mr. Golden's production of "Lightnin'" here on July 16.

One of the visitors was the company's advance manager, who adjusted the prices and other business details of the local engagement. The other was a scenic technician who measured the stage and inspected its electrical and mechanical facilities. The famous courtroom scene in "Lightnin'" requires a good deal of space and all the company's contracts are made contingent upon the stage being adequate to permit the reproduction of the scene exactly as many local people witnessed it at the Gaiety Theatre, New York, and the Blackstone Theatre, Chicago. Mr. Golden is extremely anxious to maintain the high standard set by the Metropolitan runs. Thomas Jefferson, a son of the late Joseph Jefferson, heads the special cast which Mr. Golden has sent on a tour of the principal cities, including Detroit, St. Louis and Kansas City. Charles E. Evans and Felix Haney are also prominent in the cast.

Miss Bacon, who is a daughter of Miss Bacon, who is a daughter of support for more than two years. As the prices, opening of seat sale, etc., have been decided, the theatre management is now in a position to answer all inquiries concerning the most anxiously awaited offering of the year.

Wisconsin's showing at Poughkeepsie means more than just finishing second to a championship crew. It means that in future races the Badgers will come in for serious consideration in national rowing circles.

Wisconsin, in short, has established itself as a rowing power.

NIGHT SHOW IS BEAUTIFUL

The night performance of the Robbins Brothers circus is even better than the afternoon show. It is given just exactly the same as in the afternoon. Many people have attended a circus in the afternoon and pleased with the performance, have returned for the night show and observed that half of the performance was cut. Not so with Robbins Brothers. Even should the show wish to give a short performance, it would be impossible to put on the show any different than the afternoon, on account of the big steel arena used for the wild animal performance.

The big arena is the heaviest "prop" with the show. The only advantage the show would get by cutting the performance would be to get this arena down early. This can not be done until after the performance is completed, so no advantage is gained by slicing the show.

Another thing, the night performance with the aid of electric lights is more pleasing to the eye. Should you be unable to get in for the afternoon show, don't miss the night show. Every act will be given just as advertised and just the same as it is given at the afternoon performance.

3 KILLED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Victims of Accidents Over The Week-End

Minneapolis, July 7.—Three deaths in accidents were reported in Minneapolis over the weekend. The victims were:

Clement Vasiloff, 1105 1/2 Seventh street south; fatally injured in an automobile accident near Maple Plain.

L. A. Dimoff, 21 Second avenue south; killed in the same accident.

Stanley Czarnecki, 9 years old, 1600 Sixth street northeast; died of burns.

Vasiloff and Dimoff lost their lives when their automobile skidded and overturned when they attempted to pull ahead of a car on the road between Mound and Maple Plain. Their machine plunged against a post and Dimoff died on the way to the General Hospital. Vasiloff died Sunday morning, 18 hours after the crash.

Stanley Czarnecki was fatally burned while playing with matches behind a store at Fourth street and Sixteenth avenue northeast. Attendants at the General Hospital were told that Stanley and a companion, while playing with the matches, dropped one of them into a half-empty container of wood alcohol. The alcohol exploded and set fire to the boy's clothing. He died within two hours.

Omaha, Neb., July 7.—Rev. Dominus Pouvolas, pastor of a struggling Greek Orthodox church here, says mass every Sunday on a knee cloth embroidered 1300 years ago by the Byzantine Empress Theodora.

It is worth a fortune. In 1916 the city of Athens offered Father Pouvolas 75,000 francs for it.

The central figure, that of Christ, is encircled with pearls.
